The median grade for the class, 76.014, is lower than last year's, but the percentage of those with a grade above 80 is the largest since 1909, twenty-eight students, or 30.76 per cent. having such a grade.

UNDERGRADUATES CHOOSE TOPAZ MODEL FOR COLLEGE RING

College Seal to be Carved on Stone

A topaz in a round setting with the college seal carved on the stone was adopted by the Undergraduate Association last Wednesday as a college ring. The question of instituting a college ring in place of successive class rings, first suggested by the Juniors this year, had been agitated for some time, before a decision could be reached.

A motion was passed in favor of the round setting of the model approved by the Ring Committee, which is to be narrowed at the sides to show less gold around the stone than at present. After some discussion it was moved to have a topaz, cut with the college seal, set in shiny gold. The ring, which will cost $20, is a Bailey, Banks & Biddle model. The Ring Committee consisted of J. Burges, '22, chairman; M. Morrison, '21; P. Smith, '22; F. Child, '23; D. Messerve, '23; D. Gardner, '24, and L. Sanford, '24.

SCHOLARSHIP GIVEN BY AMERICAN SCANDINAVIAN FOUNDATION

In March the American-Scandinavian Foundation will award to students of American birth twenty scholarships for study in Sweden, Denmark and Norway, each scholarship bearing a stipend of at least $1000. Candidates are nominated by their respective colleges, and a final selection made by a jury composed of college professors and technical experts, the chairman of which is Professor William F. Floyd of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The Fellowship Exchange, conducted by the Foundation, provides also for twenty Scandinavian students at American institutions.

SUMMER SCHOOL FOR WOMEN WORKERS IN INDUSTRY

Eight Week Term Starts Next Summer Joint Committee to Pick Candidates

A summer school for women workers in industry will be held at Bryn Mawr College next summer. It is the first American school of its kind, and will develop the phase of adult education dealt with by the summer school at Oxford University, England. A special faculty will be chosen for the school, which will be held from June 15 to August 10. The committees met last week-end to adopt plans for the school and to appoint executives.

Special advanced courses will be given for a group of ten advanced social and industrial leaders.

The object of the school is to give an opportunity for development of thought and expression through knowledge of liberal subjects to women working in industry. The course offered aims to train along broad constructive lines young women of character and ability who have shown a desire for a fuller education and development that they may exercise an increasing influence in the social and industrial world.

The meeting held this last week-end passed a motion that the school should not be committed to any dogma or theory, but shall conduct its teaching in a broad spirit of impartial inquiry with absolute freedom of discussion and academic freedom of teaching.

Oxford is Model for Summer School

Summer work will be like that at Oxford in that it will be carried on by brief lectures, accompanied by opportunities for full discussion. The classes will consist of small groups, between ten and twenty, and will be accompanied by tutoring classes of from one to ten students. These classes will be planned to co-ordinate with the various trade union colleges in the large centers.

Subjects offered will be those requested by the students. This year the committee has decided to provide the following courses: English, written and spoken; literature, history, economics, government,

SENIORS WIN APPARATUS MEET. CHAMPIONS FOR FOUR YEARS

Individual Contest Goes to Elizabeth Cecil, Twice Holder of Cup

With E. Cecil as individual champion, 1921, for the fourth time, won the final apparatus meet last Thursday afternoon with a total score of 38 points, making first place in all events except the ropes, which was won by M. Smith, '24. Second place was scored by 1922 with 24 points, and third by 1924 with 14 points.

In the individual meet, competition was sharp between E. Cecil, '21, and E. Cope, '21, the cup finally going to E. Cecil with a total of 72.6 points. E. Cope, with 68.9 points, won second place; A. Nicoll, '22, third, with 66.7 points; M. Buchanan, '24, with 65.1 points. One vault and one original exercise on the bars and horses were offered by each competitor, and were judged both for form and difficulty.

Three out of the five events of the meet—ropes, Indian clubs and stunt—were revived from other years. 1921 repeated the stunt that won first place in their Freshman apparatus meet. Of the meet as a whole, Mr. Bishop, of the Haverford School, who with Mr. Cronin, of the University of Pennsylvania, judged the meet, said that the quality of the work, especially the form, was noticeably higher than last year. Mr. Cronin asserted that he considered the Bryn Mawr meet as good as a man's.

Bryn Mawr's Experiment From the middle of June to the middle of August, Bryn Mawr plans to hold a summer school for women in industry. Distinguished teachers will be asked to give formal lectures, while Bryn Mawr-Alumnae are to hold small tutoring classes. Among the subjects offered are: English, spoken and written; literature, history, economics, labor problems and elementary law.

Denbigh Hall will be used for residence for the seventy students to whom the scholarships are awarded. The object of the school is to give educational advantages to women in industry that have ability, character and ambition. Many alumnae will be needed to assist in the recreational program—athletics and evening entertainments on the roof of the gymnasium. Will the Seniors leaving college this year co-operate with the alumnae who are already supporting this new Bryn Mawr experiment by coming to live in the college for all or part of the time?

Who Finds Time? "It is always too late; there is no time for anything anymore," is an opinion often echoed by over-burdened students. Some blame it on America, some on the times; many attribute it to the strenuous life at Bryn Mawr. One who has seen life at many colleges said the other day that the complaint was as prevalent at Princeton and Amherst as it is here. Everywhere they search for time, as Diogenes with his lantern searched for an honest man. "The person who finds time," could she be discovered, would make an exceptionally good subject for research. Wherever she is we nominate her for the Hall of Fame and for the Nobel Peace Prize.

PUBLIC MEETING HELD AS SECOND LESSON IN PUBLIC SPEAKING

Mrs. Pankhurst Acting as Chairman Criticizes Delivery of Speeches

A public meeting for the discussion of immigration was the form of the second lesson in public speaking, given in Taylor Hall on Thursday night. Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, noted suffragist, acted as chairman.

Miss M. Harmon, graduate student, and E. Page, '23, speakers; J. Ward, '23, mover, and E. Mollitor, '24, seconder of the resolution, made up the platform. Mrs. Pankhurst departed from her official capacity of chairman to criticize and advise.

The resolution that, "In the opinion of this meeting it is expedient to restrict immigration," was discussed by the floor and protested by P. Fansler, '24, and M. Rodney, '24. B. Constant, '24, refuted the protest, and M. Prewitt, '23, and Fung Kei Liu, '22, added some reasons in favor of the resolution, which finally passed with a large majority.

In summarizing the speeches Mrs. Pankhurst cautioned any speaker against telling her audience that she knew nothing about the subject, or prophesying the future.

Child labor was discussed in the lesson last night in the same way. The platform consisted of G. Rhodes, '22; E. Vincent, '23; A. Howell, '23, and M. Dyma, '23.
The chairman was E. Page, '23.

Boswell, who holds the European Fellowship from 1921, was held in Rockefeller Hall last Friday night. All members of the class impersonated members of the faculty and staff, as is customary.
Marynia Foot was toast mistress; while C. Garrison as Mr. Robert Lawrence, leader of community singing, led parodies sung by the whole class. After dinner the other classes were admitted to the skit, which represented Noah and all the animals in the Ark.

Committee in charge of the dinner was E. Godwin, chairman; K. Walker, and K.
Cowen.

the Graduate Club, was toastmistress.

Mrs. Smith, who was holder of the European Fellowship in Economics in 1905-06, told of her experiences while studying abroad. She was the first woman student at the Law School of the University of Vienna. Foreign students—Miss Dong

MISS WALD DESCRIBES HER WORK AT HENRY STREET SETTLEMENT

Work at the Henry Street Settlement was outlined by Miss Lillian Wald, president of that organization, who spoke in Taylor Hall last Wednesday evening under the auspices of the World Citizenship Committee.

Miss Wald described her start as a trained nurse who won the people's confidence through her practical ministrations.
From this small beginning grew up the present settlement organization, which united among its many activities the visiting nurse service, the medical inspection in connection with the municipalized school nurse, and the Federal Children's Bureau. "But next to nursing typhoid I like to give a hall," said Miss Wald, and told of the social work in connection with the settlement, speaking particularly of its talented orchestra and up-to-date theatre.

MR. SURETTE WILL HEAD MUSIC DEPARTMENT AT BRYN MAWR

Greatest Authority on Theoretical Music Will Lecture Here Next Year

The Department of Theoretical Music to be founded in Bryn Mawr next year, if funds can be secured, will be under the direction of Mr. Thomas W. Surette, one of the leading authorities in this kind of music.

Mr. Surette, a native of New England and a Harvard graduate, studied music under Professor J. K. Kaine and Arthur Foot, and has been successively lecturer in Brooklyn Institute, Teachers' College; Staff Lecturer at Oxford, and Director of Music at the Museum of Art in Cleveland, Ohio. The operetta, "Priscilla, or a Pilgrim's Proxy," is one of his best known Mason) of "Appreciation of Music," "Development of Symphonic Music," "Music and Life," and many magazine articles.

In the last few years Mr. Surette has been interested in training teachers to teach music in the elementary schools, so that the appreciation of music might spread.
For this purpose he has conducted a school in Concord, Mass. Mr. Surette is also busy with work at Harvard, which will prevent his being a resident lecturer next year.

The undergraduate courses in the new department will be history and appreciation of music, three hours a week for one year; advanced history and appreciation, two hours a week throughout the year; harmony, two hours a week throughout the year; advanced harmony, two hours a week throughout the year; counterpoint, two hours a week throughout the year. Two graduate courses dealing with theoretical aspects of music, etc.

No credit will be given for theoretical music in entrance examinations. It is proposed to rent teaching quarters for the new department from the Misses Ely. The committee for the proposed department is working for an endowment of $300,000.

were taken more than a year before she took her degree. The highest average of "passed" so far, in the third French Oral, goes to 1920 with a percentage of 100 per cent.; 1914, which is next, is only one point ahead of 1921's 86.5 per cent.

Seniors taking this oral were—Passed:
F. Billstein, B. Ehlers, M. Foot, H. James,
S. Washburn and M. Weisman. Failed:
M. Platt.

get into the game" is one of the popular quotations from Mr. Eddy's speeches. "The Gospel Indispensable to the Students of North America," "The Forces of Islam in the Near East," were two of his talks, which are best remembered by the Bryn Mawr delegation. Mr. Eddy has traveled

TENNIS TEAMS TO HAVE TWO INTERCLASS MATCHES WEEKLY

In putting tennis on a basis with the other major sports, the tennis captains have scheduled two interclass matches a week for players on the five upper teams.

Each player will play the person who holds a place on another class ladder corresponding to her own place. On Friday afternoons and at all other times, except those scheduled above, courts will be free to players on lower squads, and to all who wish to improve their place on their own class ladders by defeating the person above them.

In order that courts may be arranged, it will be necessary for each player to check her name on her class athletic board early on the day on which her team is scheduled to play.

VASSAR GIVES "TRAGEDY OF NAN" BY JOHN MASEFIELD

Masefield's "Tragedy of Nan" was presented by Vassar students, March 12, as "Second Hall Play" before an unusually large audience. Varying opinions are expressed in the Miscellany News as to its success, one complimenting the work of the cast and the committee, another maintaining that Masefield's "vision of the beautiful" in the play was made "subservient to the fact" by the performers.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION CHANGES METHOD OF FORMING BOARD

Fellowship of Reconciliation Will Hold Conference in Westtown

All members of the Christian Association Board will be elected by the Association at large, and not, as formerly, appointed by the board from members of committees, following an amendment to the constitution passed at the meeting last Thursday. Beside the officers of the Association and the Freshman and graduate advisory members, there will be six board members. Of these two will be Juniors, two will be either Juniors or Seniors, and the remaining two will be chosen from the Association at large. A change in the originally proposed amendment provides that each member of the board shall be chairman of one of the committees of the Christian Association.

The Young People's Conference, to be held under the auspices of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, in Westtown, Pa., April 1-3, was announced by C. Bickley, president of the Christian Association. The purpose of the conference is the discussion of the application of the principles of Christianity to international problems. The total cost for rooms and meals from Friday night to Sunday night, will be $525. Application blanks and all further information may be secured from E. Cope, '21, Radnor Hall.

The conference at Westtown is the third to be held by the Fellowship of Reconciliation. The program includes subjects such as "Immediate Problems of the United States Foreign Policy," "World Disarmament," "Living the International Life."

LOST SOULS, NOT THE DAMNED BUT THE WASTED, SAYS DR. PEABODY

Capacity for Sacrifice and Service Lies Undeveloped Within Us

The great waste product, the worst waste, according to Dr. Francis G. Peabody, of Harvard, who spoke in chapel last Sunday night, is the undeveloped capacity of plain people to do great things. Lost souls, Dr. Peabody said, are not those destined to eternal perdition in another world, but those whose qualities and capacities are not developed now in this one. The doctrine of the lost is not then, of despair, but of hope; not of the future, but of the present. "One great miracle of the war," said Dr. Peabody, "was the discovery that commonplace materialistic young men and women made of their own capacities for sacrifice and service when the call came. They found themselves. Out of the devastation of war this thing at least has emerged—this proof of the character of American youth. Is the end of the war to be the end of this spirit?"

The question now is not of reviving trade, but of surviving idealism, and just at this point the problems of the day are squarely met by the gospel of Jesus Christ. Through intimacy with Christ [which brings self-revelation] our underlying qualities are developed and saved.

This finding of oneself does not come through one's own efforts, but by inspiration from without, "by the supreme discovery that in the struggles and repentances of his own spirit one is not alone, but reinforced, solicited, sustained by the greater will. Our wills find what they themselves can do when we say, 'Thy will be done.'"

REELING AND WRITHING CLUB VOTE AGAINST DISBANDING

Elect Lucy Kate Bowers President

By unanimous vote taken at the meeting last Thursday night, the Reeling and Writhing Club will continue its activities. Lucy Kate Bowers, '23, was elected president for the coming year, and Elsie Mollitor, '24, secretary-treasurer.

Quoting Lafcadio Hearne's stipulation that a literary club should consist of not less than two nor more than five members, Helen Irving Murray, '21, declared that the fact that the membership of the club is small should not be an argument for giving it up. "As long as there is anyone in college who wishes the club, I think that it should continue," said Miss Murray. Helen Hill, '21, and Katharine L. Ward, '21, emphasized the need for a literary club among undergraduates, and the value of having the organization continue from year to year as a stimulus to writing and reading.

A book of Reeling and Writhing Club poetry will be published again this year, according to the present plans of the Club. This book may include material from Humble Voyagers, 1919 and 1920, as well as the poetry written this year for Mr. Frost's criticism.

POSTERITY OF JOHN AND PRISCILLA ALDEN IN COLLEGE NUMBERS TEN

Pembroke Statistics Complete Investigation of Ancestors

The last returns of the ancestor inquiry, taken this week in Pembroke East and West, swell the number of Bryn Mawr descendants of famous people like John and Priscilla Alden, Mary, Queen of Scots; Betsey Ross, and Charlemagne. The number of undergraduate descendants of John and Priscilla Alden now amounts to ten, exceeding that of any other ancestor by five. Others who have two or more descendants in College are: Mary, Queen of Scots, five; Charlemagne and Betsey Ross, four; Ethan Allan, Rob Roy, Samuel Morse, Admiral Dewey, Alfred the Great, Governor Bradford and William Morris, three; Daniel Webster, Daniel Boone, Israel Putnam, Governor Winthrop, William the Conqueror and Longfellow, two.

Smith College now has a club house in New York on East Seventeenth Street, a converted old Russian church and its mission buildings.
